

“Discover your shadow, and break free”

ANNA ESTHER

WORKING TOGETHER

My passion is writing, and I've authored several e-books and audio books now available on Amazon Kindle. I believe that we should enjoy every moment of our life whether at work or at play. Work should be playful, and play can be productive. If our heart isn't at the center of everything we do, our goals will eventually shrivel along with our soul. I guide you through taking an integrated approach to business by giving credence to the tapestry of creativity.

SERVICES OFFERED

I consult individuals and organizations on matters of the heart. My consultation services begin with administering an Actualized Leadership Profile or Group Culture Profile assessment followed by a one-on-one or group debriefing of results through the lens of heartfelt leadership.

Additionally, I take on a select number of writing and speaking engagements, as related to the subjects of love, spirituality, and authentic leadership.
